

XIAO PING SONG, PhD

8 years of research experience, 7 years in data science, and 3 years as a project manager. I lead end-to-end delivery for technical projects that develop metrics and predictive software. My research and teaching focus on applied machine learning and geospatial techniques.

Certified PMP and AWS Solutions Architect. My track record includes developing use cases for data products, acquiring exclusive data, building dashboard applications, leading technical workshops, and aligning diverse stakeholders in highly matrixed environments.
